

What Is The Correct Uploading Option of Your Website?

After creating a website in FusionHQ, you can upload it directly from your FusionHQ account. Make sure that you have a domain and hosting service already set up. In the top right of the "Funnel Map" or "Sitemap", you will see "Options". Here you can find all uploading options for your website.

"FusionHQ Hosting / Verified Hosting" can be selected if your domains are registered with FusionHQ. This can also be used with any domains outside FusionHQ but are verified with our system. The available domains will be shown in the dropdown menu. Once chosen, you can enter the root path of your website in the input box.

"Unverified external hosting" should be used with any domains that are not registered or verified with FusionHQ. You need to create an external hosting profile first, before applying this option.

"WordPress Sync" is used for WordPress sites only. It helps you synchronize the content created within FusionHQ with your WordPress site / blog.

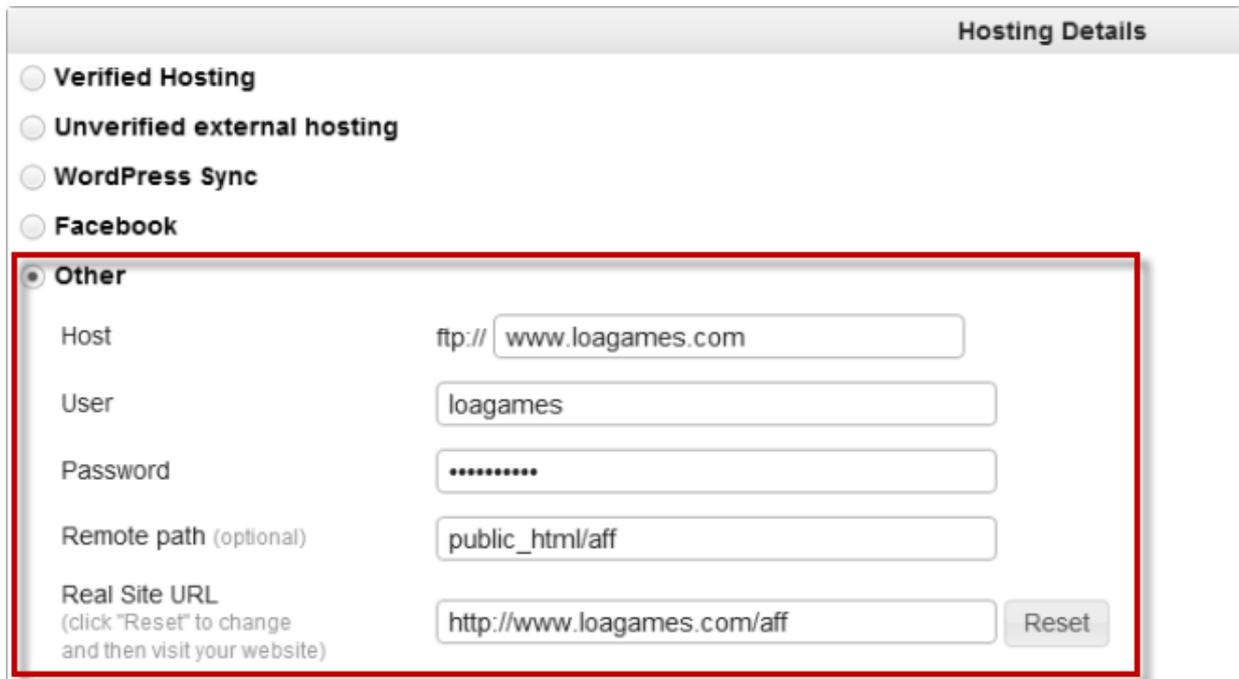

The screenshot shows a dialog box titled "Hosting Details" with several radio button options: "Verified Hosting", "Unverified external hosting", "WordPress Sync", "Facebook", and "Other". The "WordPress Sync" option is selected and highlighted with a red rectangular border. Below this option, there are three input fields: "WordPress URL" containing "http://www.fusioninsider.com/", "Username" with a redacted value, and "Password" with a masked value of "**".

Select "Facebook" if you want to upload your page as the Facebook fanpage. If you have not logged in to your Facebook account yet, please fill it in the pop-up page.

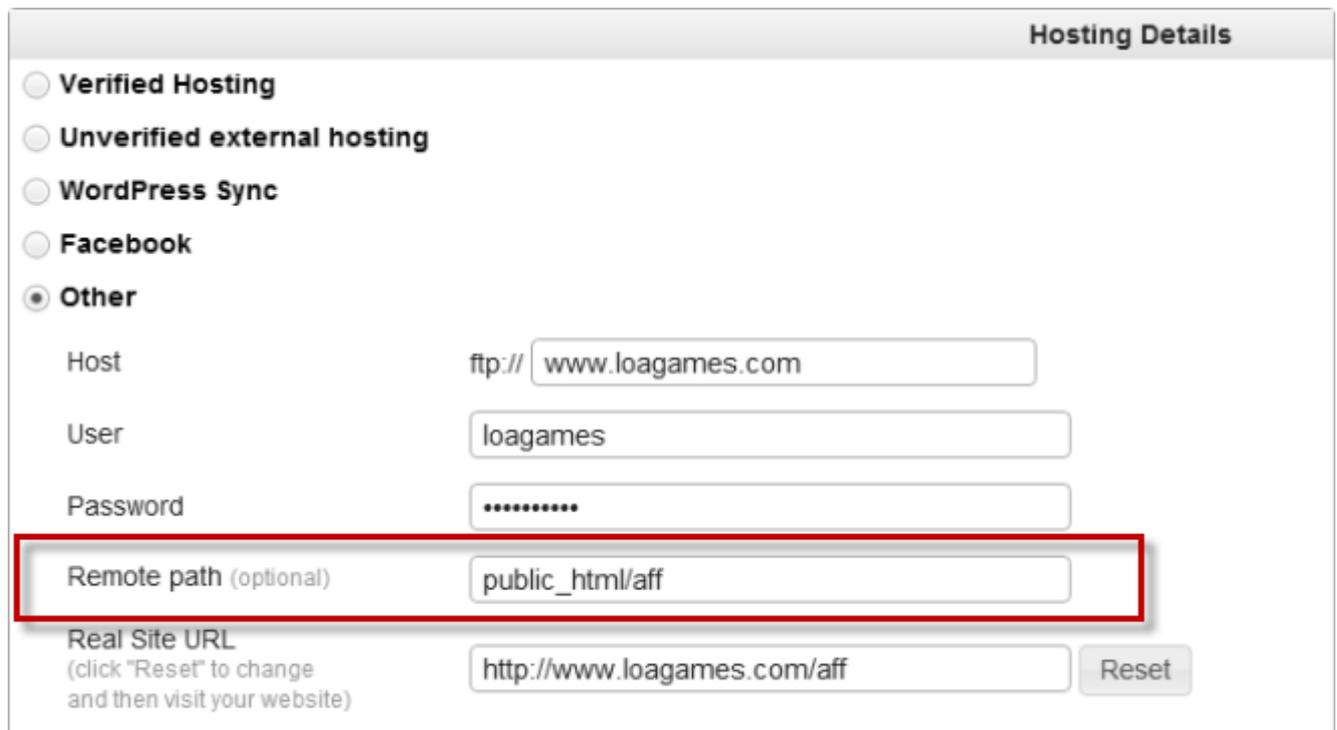

The screenshot shows the "Hosting Details" dialog box with the "Facebook" option selected, indicated by a red arrow. Below the "Facebook" option, there is a red warning message: "[Your login session is unverified.] Click here to get your session. (Please". Overlaid on top of the dialog box is a "Facebook Login" pop-up window. The pop-up window has a title bar "Log In | Facebook" and a header "Facebook Login". The main content area says "Log in to use your Facebook account with FusionPages." and contains input fields for "Email or Phone:" and "Password:". There is also a checkbox for "Keep me logged in" and a link for "Forgot your password?". At the bottom of the pop-up, there is a "Sign up for Facebook" link and "Log In" and "Cancel" buttons.

"Other" can be used if you want to enter the FTP details of your website on your own. You can get the FTP details from your hosting provider. The FTP details must include the hosting name (ftp.yourdomain.com), your username and password. "Remote Path" is the location or the folder that you would like to upload your site to.

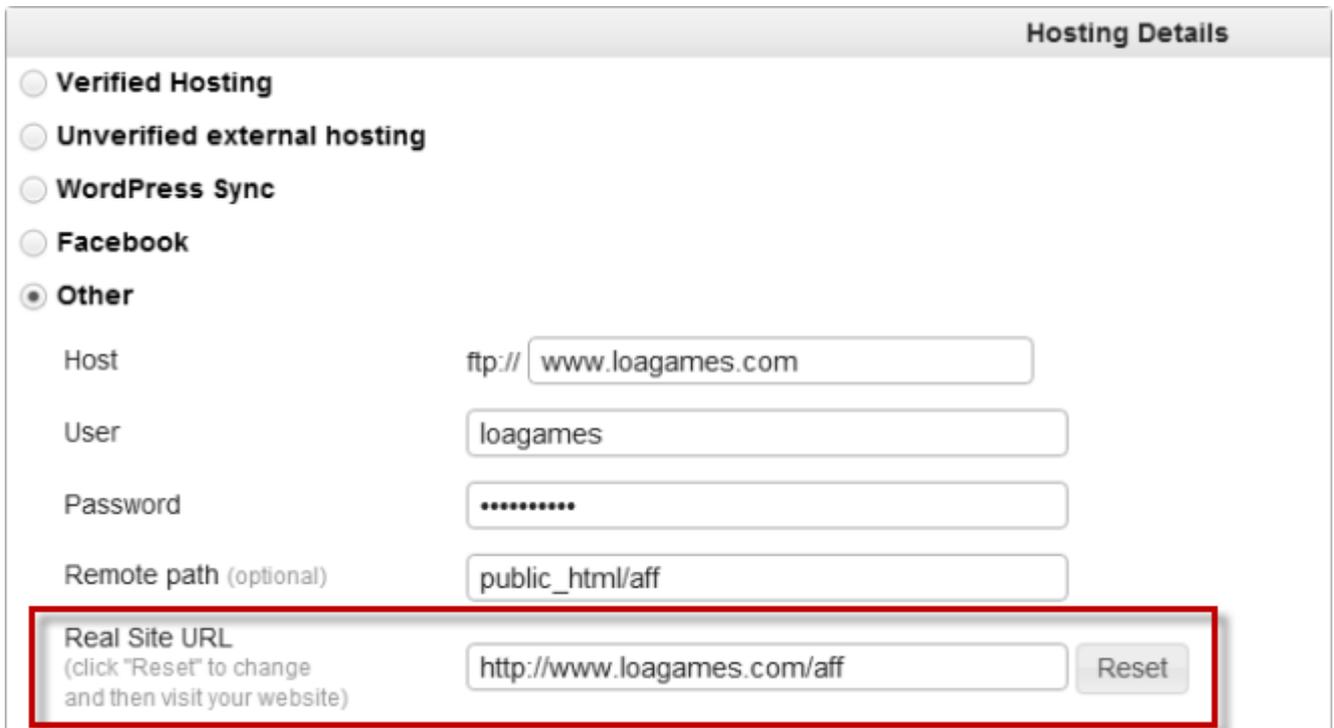

The screenshot shows a 'Hosting Details' form with several radio button options: 'Verified Hosting', 'Unverified external hosting', 'WordPress Sync', 'Facebook', and 'Other'. The 'Other' option is selected and highlighted with a red border. Below the 'Other' option, there are five input fields: 'Host' (ftp:// www.loagames.com), 'User' (loagames), 'Password' (masked with dots), 'Remote path (optional)' (public_html/aff), and 'Real Site URL' (http://www.loagames.com/aff). A 'Reset' button is located to the right of the 'Real Site URL' field.

"Remote Path" is the location or the folder that you would like to upload your site to.

This screenshot is identical to the one above, but with a red box highlighting the 'Remote path (optional)' field, which contains the text 'public_html/aff'. The other fields and the 'Reset' button remain visible and unchanged.

"Real Site URL" is the correct URL of your website. You can't type anything in the "Real Site URL" box because these details are automatically displayed once you upload successfully. If you have uploaded your site successfully and visited the webpage but the "Real Site URL" shows no details, it's likely that you've uploaded to the wrong path.
